APPU Regional Meeting

An APPU meeting held in Kolkata in January attracted 20 member countries. Principally organized to discuss the region's approach at the UPU Congress in Istanbul later in the year it also discussed the important issues of terminal dues, UPU reform, products, strategy and innovation and APPU reform.

No consensus could be reached regarding terminal dues and therefore there will be no APPU Position in Istanbul on this matter.

It was agreed that reform of the UPU was needed and the concept of a mini-Congress was generally agreed on. The move to a single council was viewed positively provided there was a more equitable mix between ICs and DCs.

The Products, Strategy & Innovation Group raised important questions: Would splitting letters into goods and documents complicate matters? When will integrated remuneration be developed and by whom? It was agreed that Australia would represent the views of APPU members at UPU.

Finally it was agreed that APPU should undertake reform within the scope of the current budget with the Director of APPU taking the lead in the matter as a matter of urgency.

Disaster Risk Management Seminar

In January the APPU hosted a UPU led Disaster Risk Management Seminar. With the help of funding from the Japanese Ministry of Internal Affairs & Communications it attracted 55 participants from the region. The objective of the workshop was to enhance the capabilities of members in the event of disasters. It covered issues such as disaster and relief management, emergency aid and the roles of different stakeholders in coordinating responses during natural disasters. The seminar concluded that posts have a key role to play in reacting quickly and positively to disasters in the region.

Meetings with WCO and ICAO in Bangkok

WORLD CUSTOMS ORGANIZATION

Key partners to the UPU and a key facilitator to international trade for posts it is important to have good relations with the World Customs and International Civil Aviation organisations at a regional level. With this in mind Mr Lin met with the regional office of both the WCO and ICAO in January to discuss how cooperation could be developed with APPU for the benefit of all members countries.

International Food Festival

The ABM and PRS participants were the first to bring their culinary skills to APPC in 2016. With attendees from 12 countries there was an array of dishes and flavours to taste. After dinner participants were eager (well most were) to show off their talents in the fields of dancing, singing and other forms of entertainment.

People In Focus - Thakur Sinha

The Deputy Director General for International Relations in India Post is taking up the post of Supply Chain Coordinator at the Universal Postal Union in Bern. Well known for his commitment to the interests of APPU members, his expertise and sharp humour will be missed at future APPU meetings. We wish him every success in his new assignment.

Attendee Profile - Sherab

Sherab was a model of Bhutanese calm and serenity. Coming from the Kingdom where Gross National Happiness is the measure of well being she radiated happiness to all her fellow participants and was a well deserved first Ms APPC of 2016.

Future Leaders Programme

PostExpo is coming to Hong Kong in May and it will be bigger and better than ever before. Due to the UPU Congress being held this year the Hong Kong event will be the one and only PostExpo of the year. A new feature this year will be the Future Leaders Programme, hosted by our own visiting course directors, Graeme Lee and Derek Osborn. The FLP, in association with APPC, will be a fast paced one-day event aimed at young managers seen as the future of their respective posts. Featuring interactive sessions, a postal quiz, interviews with industry leaders, and other interactive sessions it is a not to be missed event. Attendees will be tasked with coursework that will be presented at the APPU Forum in November.

Hong Kong ETP - Postal Development

In January visiting course director Graeme Lee was invited to undertake a training programme in Hong Kong. The subject of the training was Postal Development and was focused at a group of young managers from various parts of Hong Kong Post. The training covered issues including postal sector policy, universal service and postal strategy and raised the question of "what is the future of posts". An in-course exercise invited the trainees to develop a onepage strategy outlining their vision of the future of Hong Kong Post. Given the caliber and range of strategies presented the future of Hong Kong Post is in good hands with these young managers.
